
Golf Inc. Magazine
FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

November 19, 2007

CONTACT:

Chase A. Peckham, Associate Publisher

Golf Inc.

858-300-3205

chase@cypressmagazines.com

TPC Sawgrass, Pine Canyon Club,
Arizona Country Club, take Top Honors
as Golf Inc.'s Clubhouses
Of the Year for 2007

Fifteen top clubhouses to be honored at April 21 Awards Gala, in January issue of Golf Inc. magazine

Clubhouses in Arizona and Florida won top honors in the 2007 Golf Inc. Clubhouse of the Year competition. Honorees were recognized in three categories, daily fee, private clubs and renovations and remodelings.

The TPC Sawgrass in Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla., took the top spot in the daily fee category.
Pine Canyon Club in Flagstaff, Ariz., and Arizona Country Club in Phoenix, Ariz., won in the private clubs and renovation and remodeling categories respectively.

Fifteen courses were honored in all and will receive awards at Golf Inc.'s annual Development Awards Gala on April 21 at Doral Resort and Spa in Miami, Fla. The first class event is being held in conjunction with the world renown, Golf Inc. Management and Development Conference.

The winning course in the daily fee category is owned by PGA Tour Golf Course Properties.
Chapman, Coyle, Chapman & Associates was the project architect. Ferry, Hayes & Allen
Designers were the interior designers and Clark Construction was the contractor.

Other finalists in the daily fee category were:

Runner-up

-The Ridges at Mountain Harbor, Hayesville, N. C.

Finalists

-Heritage Shores Club, Bridgeville, Del.

-Ocean Course at Kiawah Island Resort, Kiawah Island, S. C.

-Mountain View Golf Club, West Trenton, N. J.

The private club winner, Pine Canyon Club, is owned by Lone Tree Investments. The architect and interior designer for the project was MAI Design Group and Wespac Construction was the contractor.

Other finalists in the private club category were:

Runner-up

-Talking Rock Ranch, Prescott, Ariz.

Finalists

-Cimarron Hills Golf & Country Club, Georgetown, Texas

-Blair Atholl Golf Club, Gaunteng, South Africa

-Shark's Tooth Golf Club, Lake Powell, Fla.

The renovation and remodeling award winner is the member owned Arizona Country Club. The architect for the project was Douglas Fredrikson Architects, SE Design was the interior designer and the contractor was Sundt Construction.

Other finalists in the renovations and remodeling category were:

Runner-up

-John's Island Club, Vero Beach, Fla.

Finalists

-The Rookery at Marco Golf Club, Naples, Fla.

-Maggie Valley Club, Maggie Valley, N. C.

-Wynlakes Golf & Country Club, Montgomery, Ala.

For further information and stories on the all the clubhouse award winners, look for the January edition of Golf Inc. magazine.

The industry leading Golf Inc. Conference will be held April 21-23 at the world famous Doral Resort and Spa in Miami, Fla. This spring's conference will feature more educational sessions than ever before with the most dynamic and visionary speakers in the industry today. For information please contact Bob Burke at 858-300-3206 or via email at bobburke@cypressmagazines.com